

CAPRISA strongly objects to surreptitious attempts by tobacco companies to influence scientific conferences through organisations like the Foundation for a Smoke-Free World, a conduit of Philip Morris.

We stand by fellow organizations protesting this situation, either through their withdrawal from the conference or public objections.