Did SA get it right when tackling the pandemic?

As the country prepares for a possible second surge and marks 200 days since the first positive test for Covid-19, medical, economic and scientific experts weigh in on failures and triumphs.

Collins Khosa

"We have a significant number of cases, and the prime minister should have declared lockdown when the first surge was over. We had an opportunity to test the vaccine and it was not used effectively."

Schoonblad

"We are not doing well, we have not learned from how to use these vaccines effectively."

Collins Khosa

"We have a significant number of cases, and the prime minister should have declared lockdown when the first surge was over. We had an opportunity to test the vaccine and it was not used effectively."

Schoonblad

"We are not doing well, we have not learned from how to use these vaccines effectively."

Collins Khosa

"We have a significant number of cases, and the prime minister should have declared lockdown when the first surge was over. We had an opportunity to test the vaccine and it was not used effectively."

Schoonblad

"We are not doing well, we have not learned from how to use these vaccines effectively."

Collins Khosa

"We have a significant number of cases, and the prime minister should have declared lockdown when the first surge was over. We had an opportunity to test the vaccine and it was not used effectively."

Schoonblad

"We are not doing well, we have not learned from how to use these vaccines effectively."

Collins Khosa

"We have a significant number of cases, and the prime minister should have declared lockdown when the first surge was over. We had an opportunity to test the vaccine and it was not used effectively."

Schoonblad

"We are not doing well, we have not learned from how to use these vaccines effectively."

Collins Khosa

"We have a significant number of cases, and the prime minister should have declared lockdown when the first surge was over. We had an opportunity to test the vaccine and it was not used effectively."

Schoonblad

"We are not doing well, we have not learned from how to use these vaccines effectively."

Collins Khosa

"We have a significant number of cases, and the prime minister should have declared lockdown when the first surge was over. We had an opportunity to test the vaccine and it was not used effectively."

Schoonblad

"We are not doing well, we have not learned from how to use these vaccines effectively."

Collins Khosa

"We have a significant number of cases, and the prime minister should have declared lockdown when the first surge was over. We had an opportunity to test the vaccine and it was not used effectively."

Schoonblad

"We are not doing well, we have not learned from how to use these vaccines effectively."

Collins Khosa

"We have a significant number of cases, and the prime minister should have declared lockdown when the first surge was over. We had an opportunity to test the vaccine and it was not used effectively."

Schoonblad

"We are not doing well, we have not learned from how to use these vaccines effectively."

Collins Khosa

"We have a significant number of cases, and the prime minister should have declared lockdown when the first surge was over. We had an opportunity to test the vaccine and it was not used effectively."

Schoonblad

"We are not doing well, we have not learned from how to use these vaccines effectively."

Collins Khosa

"We have a significant number of cases, and the prime minister should have declared lockdown when the first surge was over. We had an opportunity to test the vaccine and it was not used effectively."

Schoonblad

"We are not doing well, we have not learned from how to use these vaccines effectively."